Did You Know...

Cockroaches Can Live Without Food for One Month
Cockroaches are able to go for so long without sustenance because they are cold-blooded insects. However, they can only survive for one week without water, which is why they are commonly found in humid or high-moisture areas around the home, such as kitchens and bathrooms.

These facts prove that cockroaches are some of the most adaptable creatures on earth, which makes controlling and eliminating a cockroach infestation all the more difficult. To get rid of cockroaches in your home, keep food sealed and stored properly, particularly in the kitchen, which should be cleaned daily to prevent crumbs and trash from building up. Garbage and cardboard should be disposed of regularly and stored in sealed containers.

Winter Reminders

Please be mindful of parking during snow removal. Do not park over the curbs or block walkways. Use caution when driving and allow for extra travel time. Also, dress in layers and bundle up before heading out into winter weather. Please keep windows closed. Hot Water Radiators will crack when exposed to cold air and will cause a major mess. Tenants will be charged for having windows open in the heating season.

Pet reminders

You must clean-up after your pet- failure to do so will result in a lease violation and possible charges to your account.
Pets, when outside, must be accompanied by you. Pets (cats and dogs alike) are not to be outside on a lead. Please do not feed stray cats or provide shelter for them.
